Title: " Beauty"

Author:

Beauty is all around in many disguises, love ,
hate, song, dance,
everything. But the most beautiful to
behold is the art of ramance. Romance is a delicate art. It's hard to accomplish by a
few, and yet is ᶜᵉows
so easily for others.
Being a bard, I see
beauty in everyhting.
And I am romanced by all the things living.
The birds, in their
graceful ᶜᵉights, the trees blowing in the wind, the sweet smell
os ᶜᵉowers on a warm
spring day, the sound of the waves churning
on endlessly singing
their songs of the sea,
but most of all I am
romanced by the sight
of young love.
Wherever ya may be,
let go, and let your mind drift, smell the air around you and
take a deep breath, for you have everything
that one could ever
dream of, Life is beautiful. And life is a romance all to its own.
